EU 24 Hour Rule

- What is the new EU rule?
- The new European 24 hour rule is similar to the United States AMS law, which requires carriers to gather HS Code data per commodity and submit 24 hours in advance of vessel departure from the US load port. These new EU regulations are effective December 31, 2010.
- In order to comply with new EU regulations, Flash Cargo will be required to submit manifests to carriers with additional data elements for all cargo destined to, or transiting through the European Community.
- Flash Cargo ENS Documentation Cut Offs
- Ocean shipments: 72 hour preload lead time
- Air shipments: 24 hour preload lead time
- Flash Cargo ENS Documentation Requirements
- Flash Cargo will only consider cargo for loading when all data is complete:
- B/L instructions, AES submission, HS Code data, acceptable commodity description, plus normal export documentation
- Special attention must be made to list Shipper, Consignee and Notify Party full addresses and contact details.
- HS Code Data and Commodity Description
- We recommend the submission of 6 digit HS Codes in every instance possible to assist in accurate data submission. The EU regulation also requires use of clear commodity description along with the HS code (i.e. descriptions such as F.A.K. /GDSM are not be permitted)
